

2019 Fourth Grade Poems of Merit

Void By Jens Leirme

Nothingness Darkness
Leaving Disappearing Dying
Bad air Space vacuum Creation
Expanding Growing Waking
Anything Everything
Universe

Little Bird By Sylvie Pierce

A little bird singing a song in the afternoon breeze on a pole waiting for his choir mates

To Spring Here I Come By Tristan Hughes

To Spring here I come,
Under the white clouds,
Above the green grass,
With the wind in my face,
On a fresh green tree,
In my nest made out of mud,
From a egg I will hatch.

Snow By Walter Moore

Snow
Soft beautiful
Falling melting drifting
Flakes crystals piles drifts
Blowing freezing covering Blinding Whiteout
blizzard

The Eagle's Flight By Margaret Canter

An eagle takes off soaring through the air,
Whirling through the trees and onto the hill.
Racing with the kite the children share,
Rounding the barn and the old mill.

Now you see him swirling up to the sky,
Now he dips down by the old sheep pen.
Rising up, up see him flash by,
Now he comes down racing again.

Seed By Weston Uhe

Seed
Small powerful
Drifting floating soaring
Maple seed maple tree oak seed Oak tree
Sprouting growing shading
Sturdy tall
Tree

To Spring Here I Come By Aubrey Merry

To Spring here I come,
Under the ground it gets wet,
Above the sky it falls down,
With a big splash on the ground and a loud
BOOM,
On the wet earth below,
In a gray cloud I live,
To the world I am mad,
From the storm I will calm.